The Insurance Sector Education and Training Authority (INSETA)

Request for Bid (RFB): Capacity Building of Black Training Providers Project

1. High level project objective

This project aims to appoint a service provider that can –

- conduct research into what content would be required in a programme aimed at capacity building HDI education and training providers;
- facilitate the selection of 40 potential participants ; and
- deliver the programme as a range of workshops, integrated with action learning in the workplace, as an accelerated capacity-building programme.

2. Background to INSETA

The Insurance Sector Education and Training Authority (INSETA) was established in terms of the Skills Development Act 97 of 1998. INSETA is required to promote, facilitate, monitor and research education and training in the Insurance Sector. To this end, INSETA must:

- Monitor and evaluate employers Skills Planning and Implementation Reports
- Develop, implement and monitor the implementation of the Insurance Sector Skills Plan within the framework of the NSDS
- Fulfill its duties as an accredited Education and Training Quality Authority (ETQA) within the NQF as approved by the South African Quality Authority (SAQA)
- Establish, register, implement and promote Learnerships in the Sector
- Disburse mandatory and discretionary grants within the Sector
- Promote and encourage SMME participation within the spirit and ambits of the Skills Development Act, the National Skills Development Strategy and the National Qualification's framework.

3. Requirement for this Project

This project has not previously been offered and is a new initiative for INSETA. Research has shown that there are insufficient black and HDI education and training providers, who can be in a position to win tenders for education and training provision, or who can effectively and efficiently provide education and training, to learners in the industry. This project is aimed at addressing this shortage, through a focused capacity building programme.

The GCC is attached to this RFB and must be initialed on all pages and submitted with the bid .

Failure of the successful Service Provider to accept the obligations stated within the RFB, GCC and the submitted bid , unless otherwise agreed to in writing by both the Service Provider and INSETA may result in cancellation of the award of the contract.

9. Economy of Bid Preparation

Each bid should be prepared simply and economically, providing a straightforward, concise description of the Service Provider's ability to meet the requirements of the RFB.

Emphasis should be on a clear, concise, factual bid that provides a total solution, from inception of the research effort to submitting of report information to DOL.

10. Service Provider Response

Each Service Provider must respond fully to the RFB noted in the invite. At a minimum, each item must be responded to as prescribed. However, the Service Provider may provide additional information on relevant items.

11. Contract Objectives

In contracting with the Service Provider(s) pursuant to this RFB, INSETA seeks to accomplish the following major objectives:

- Appointing a service provider to conduct research into what content would be required in a programme aimed at capacity-building HDI education and training providers.
- Once a "dedicated" programme has been developed and approved by INSETA, a process of selecting 40 potential participants will be done. Criteria will be established according to which these participants will be selected. The possibility of an EOI process should be explored, since unsolicited application for participation will indicate that the participants have bought into the process, and want to participate.

- The programme will be delivered as a range of workshops, integrated with action learning in the workplace, as an accelerated capacity-building programme, to provide opportunity for skills and knowledge transfer to happen. The implementation of the theory through action learning, which will be assessed by INSETA, will provide clear indications of the success of the knowledge transfer and action learning.
- Assessment of the action learning will be conducted by INSETA and will happen in consultation with the providers, probably on a quarterly basis.

12. Incurring of Costs

Costs incurred by any party in responding to this RFB are for the responding party concerned and INSETA will not be liable for any such costs.

13. Acceptance/Rejection of Bids

INSETA reserves the right to accept or reject, wholly or in part, any of the bids submitted in response to this RFB within its sole discretion and having due regard to any applicable legislation or regulations.

The Service Provider(s) whose bids are accepted will be required, respectively, to enter into:

- an agreement relating to the provision, implementation and maintenance of the Services defined in this RFB; and
- a business relationship agreement and service level agreement relating to the delivery and maintenance of services as contemplated in this RFB.

These agreements will govern the relationship between the parties and will contain key performance indicators and sanctions for non-compliance.

The terms and conditions of this RFB and the selected bid(s) will be incorporated into the agreements as part of the contractual obligations of the successful Service Provider, it being specifically provided that the respective Service Provider will be bound by any statements and representations made in its bid. Failure by any of the successful Service Provider(s) to accept the terms and conditions contained in this RFB and the submitted bid, or a failure by the parties to conclude the required agreements by the date stipulated will entitle INSETA to cancel the award of the contract without prejudice to any rights or claims for damages which it may have. INSETA will have no obligations whatsoever vis-à-vis the Service Provider(s) should the award of the contract be so terminated.

Should any service be provided by the successful Service Provider prior to the conclusion of the required agreements, such services shall be provided upon the terms and conditions contained in this RFB as read with the accepted bid, unless agreed otherwise in writing between the parties.

14. Provisions relating to Subcontractors and Consortiums

The Service Providers whose bids are accepted will be required to assume responsibility for delivery of all services required in terms of this RFB, whether or not the bid was a single provider bid, a consortium or joint venture bid, or whether any part of the services are sub-contracted to a third party, it being specifically recorded that any agreements concluded pursuant to this RFB will be concluded only with the successful Service Provider. Further, INSETA will consider the Service Provider whose bids are accepted to be the sole point of contact with regard to all services contemplated in this RFB, including payment of any and all charges resulting from the provision of such services.

A number of Service Providers may respond to the RFB as a consortium or joint venture in order to provide the capabilities to address all the service requirements of INSETA. Should this be the case, there must be a single point of contact with regard to contractual matters, including payment of any and all charges resulting from the anticipated contract. It is further recorded that all such Service Providers shall be jointly and severally liable for all obligations and liabilities arising from any agreements concluded pursuant to this RFB

To be considered a valid bid, it is compulsory that the bid must include the following information for all parties included in the consortium or joint venture, or when any portion of the service are sub contracted:

- Last three years Audited financial statements of each Consortium or joint venture member or subcontractor (excluding individual assessors, moderators, and subject matter experts that the learning provider may use)

Tax clearance certificate issued by the South African Revenue Services for each Consortium or joint venture member or subcontractor

INSETA shall have the right to approve or not approve subcontractors for any portion of services required under this RFB and to require the Service Provider whose bids were accepted to replace subcontractors found to be unacceptable.

The Service Provider whose bid is accepted is responsible for adherence by the subcontractor to all provisions of any agreements concluded pursuant to this RFB. In addition, the activities performed by all subcontractors must be integrated with the operations/location of the Service Provider whose bid is accepted, such that INSETA perceives a single service entity from an operational point of view.

It will be expected of the successful tenderer/s to sign and agree to the INSETA's Code of Conduct for Service Providers. Failure to sign this, may lead to INSETA not accepting the tenderer.
