

Call for nominations to serve on the INSETA Research and Learning Programmes Steering Committee

INSETA is in the process of establishing a fully capacitated research unit that will work with public higher Education Institutions and the insurance sector; to develop a central skills planning system that produces credible research that in turn informs skills planning within the Insurance Sector.

In order to ensure that research is valid and reliable, and effectively directs the implementation of skills development interventions with the full support of the sector, INSETA is calling for nominations to serve on the INSETA Research and Learning Programmes Steering Committee.

Role of Committee Members:

- Volunteer to attend quarterly meetings at INSETA offices;
- Contribute towards research discussions and the INSETA Annual research agenda;
- Co-crafting more innovative skills development interventions that addresses unemployment, inequality and poverty.
- Provide input and advise in respect of updating INSETA learning programme models and implementation plans; and

Composition of Committee Members:

- Nominations must be represented by:
  - Five senior officials from the insurance companies who are subject-matter experts in any Insurance field;
  - Three officials from Professional Bodies/INSETA Recognised industry associations to support the process.

Nominations and all queries in this regard must be forwarded to:

Nominations@inseta.org.za by 15 February 2019.

All nominees must be nominated by a senior official in the organisation. Information of the nominated individual must be sent on the company letterhead, along with a detailed CV of the nominee that will represent the organisation.
